Although the Sangh functionaries called Bhagwat's visit "routine", it holds significance given the turmoil in Bangladesh and rising tensions along the border as the RSS looks to expand its presence in the state. Bengal is due for the Assembly elections in March-April 2026.

"In this centenary year (of the RSS), we are propagating five points including environment protection, samajik samarshata (abolition of caste system), stress on sha bhasha, sha utpadan sha sanskriti (own language, production and culture), parivar prabadhan (re-establishing traditional Hindu family), and nagarik kartavya (civic sense). He (Bhagwat) is here to propagate these issues in Bengal," Basu said.

"It has been decided that the organisation will be consolidated at the gram panchavat level in rural areas and ward level in urban areas. The gram panchavats will be the base of our social activities. We will work for the next few vears in this direction. We will try to unify the Sangh and society," Biplab Roy, the RSS publicity incharge in Bengal, told The Indian

After former Bangladesh PM Sheikh Hasina was ousted from power last August, the arrest of a Hindu monk followed by alleged attacks on minorities in that country led to protests and marches in Bengal led by the RSS and its affiliates. Last October, while referring to Hindus in Bangladesh during his annual Vijayadashami speech at the RSS headquarters in Nagpur, Bhagwat said, "Being unorganised and weak is like inviting atrocities by the wicked. Hindus need to be united." On February 8, Bhagwat had met the parents of the junior doctor who was raped and murdered in R G Kar Medical College in Kolkata last August. Later, while speaking to the media, the victim's father said, "Mohan Bhagwat said he is with us in our fight for justice. We gave him a letter detailing the incident and our standpoint. He said he will justice. He even invited us to have lunch with him."

Last October, Bhagwat had attacked the TMC government over the RG Kar outrage, alleging that attempts were made to protect criminals in the case. During his 10-day trip, Bhagwat held closed-door meetings with Sangh functionaries from the state's three prants (regions) - Uttar, Dakshin and Madhya. He also met senior kshetra(state-level)functionaries from Bengal, Bihar, Sikkim, and Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

On Friday, Bhagwat inaugurated a new Madhya Prant office at Ullash in Bardhaman town. On Saturday, he visited a shakha in Purba Bardhaman district.

After arriving in Kolkata on February 6 night, Bhagwat stayed at Keshav Bhawan, the Sangh's regional headquarters in the city, from February 7 to 10 to meet the RSS workers. On February 11-12, Bhagwat held a meeting of eight top Sangh functionaries.

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA KATRA, FEBRUARY 15

A new journey began in J&K after the "historic" abrogation of Article 370 in 2019 and the region has now become a conflution by the Market Police, who said Vice President Jagdeep Dhankhar Saturday while highlighting that the aspirations of generations have found wings.

Addressing a gathering during of Shri Mata Vaishno Devi University, he said, "Democracy has found its real voice, its real resonance. The region is no longer a story of conflict; every investment proposal in new Kashmir is not just about capital, it is about trust being restored, faith being rewarded. The change is not imperceptible; it is perceptible. Perception has changed, ground reality is changing, hopes of the people are soaring."

In just two years, Dhankhar said J&K received investment proposals worth ₹65,000 crore, signalling strong economic interest in the region. In an apparent reference to BJP ideologue Syama Prasad Mookerjee, he said a great son of the soil once voiced the demand for 'Ek Desh Mein Ek Nishan, Ek Vidhan, Ek Pradhan' and that dream has been accomplished after the abrogation of Article 370. "Where there was once disorder, we now witness real order and stability."
