

India, US don't compete as much as they complement each other: Piyush Goyal

Our vision is to make India 'water secure nation' by 2047: C.R. Patil

Mumbai, Feb 18 (TSIT): Union Minister of Commerce and Industry, Piyush Goyal, on Tuesday, said India and the United States do not compete as much as they complement each other, and discussions are underway with various stakeholders, both within and outside the government, to strengthen trade ties between the two nations.

India's efforts to double trade with the United States to $500 billion by 2030 were underscored by the Union Minister in his virtual address at the NDTV Profit Conclave.

"This is a relationship between two friendly nations, trusted partners, and powerful democracies. We do not compete as much as we complement each other," said Goyal. The Union Minister highlighted that India's position in global trade negotiations had been strengthened due to its focus on protecting domestic industries from non-market economies that lack transparent trading systems. "Our biggest concern has been economies that do not give equal access to India when we are trading with them. To protect domestic industries, higher tariffs have often been resorted to," he stressed.

A similar concern was noted for the US, where lower tariffs have led to market disruptions due to an influx of goods from such economies.

"In a way, the problem of America is the same as India's...What we are working on is finding a way to resolve this issue for both countries," Goyal said.

According to the Union Minister, trade relations between India and the US

Union Minister of Commerce and Industry, Piyush Goyal, on Tuesday, said India and the United States do not compete as much as they complement each other, and discussions are underway with various stakeholders, both within and outside the government, to strengthen trade ties between the two nations.

have already been bolstered through strategic, bilateral, and multilateral engagements, including defence ties, education, and people-to-people connections. Apex business chambers have hailed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to the US as a landmark event in strengthening India-US trade and investment relations. There were several tangible outcomes from the PM's visit to the US. These include strengthening cooperation in defence, terrorism, energy security covering both fossil fuels and nuclear power, trade and investment besides leveraging India's human capital.

Another major outcome is the development of a US-India roadmap for accelerating AI Infrastructure by the end of the year. The ambitious target of $500 billion bilateral trade by 2030 is eminently achievable while agreement on negotiation for a Bilateral Trade Agreement would pave the way for new trade and investment opportunities between the two nations.

Jaipur, Feb 18 (TSIT): Union Jal Shakti Minister C.R. Patil said on Tuesday that the Union government is committed to making India a 'water-secure nation' by 2047. He also cited Prime Minister Modi's focus on sanitation, which led to the construction of 12 crore toilets, benefiting 60 crore people and significantly reducing waterborne diseases such as diarrhoea.

"Under the Jal Jeevan Mission, 15 crore households now have access to clean drinking water, and 25 lakh women have been trained in water purity testing. The Union government is committed to making India a water-secure nation by 2047," said the minister while addressing the second All India Conference of State Water Ministers in Udaipur. He added that the 'Catch the Rain' initiative, aimed at promoting rainwater harvesting, has also gained momentum, with migrants contributing to the construction of recharge wells in villages.

Patil announced that Rajasthan would receive an increased water supply under the revised PKC Link Project, ensuring significant future benefits. He also emphasised the importance of a prompt agreement between Rajasthan and Haryana under the Yamuna Water Accord to facilitate surplus water transfer to Rajasthan.

National education policy will bring a big change in country: Dattatraya

Chandigarh (JAG MOHAN THAKEN), February 18 - Haryana Governor Bandaru Dattatraya said that the National Education Policy-2020 is going to bring a big change in the country. This will give a new guidance to the young generation through innovation, technology, research, education, culture and moral values. When all the students move forward with new thinking, then by the year 2047, a developed India of Prime Minister Narendra Modi's dreams will definitely be created.

The Governor, who is also the Chancellor of Kurukshetra University, was addressing the students after giving PhD, postgraduate and graduate degrees at the 34th convocation of Kurukshetra University Tuesday.

While congratulating the students who received degrees and gold medals, Bandaru Dattatraya said the bright future of the country can be seen in these students. After this 34th convocation, a new journey will begin in the lives of all the students. Parents and teachers will have a lot of expectations from this journey. Some students will be looking for jobs and some will move forward towards their business. He said looking at the talent of the students, it is seen that after receiving degrees from Kurukshetra University, most of the students will achieve a position not as job seekers but as job providing institutions. He said many challenges will come up in this new path. All the students have to face these challenges and achieve their goal. To achieve this, the students will have to move forward with hard work and honesty. Congratulating and wishing Kurukshetra University on getting A-plus-plus grade and 41st ranking of NIRF, the Governor said due to the hard work of the university administration, teachers and employees, the university is moving ahead at a fast pace on the path of progress. This university is the oldest university of the state; therefore, the students will have to always keep in mind the education and values received from Kurukshetra University.

Governor and Chancellor of Kurukshetra University Dattatraya also felicitated

Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini with the Honorary degree of Doctor of Literature for his outstanding contribution in social and political field at the 34th convocation of the university. Along with this, former ISRO Chairman Dr. S. Somanath, who did remarkable work in the field of science and increased India's pride in space, was also honoured with an honorary degree and Goyal Peace Prize by the university.

The Chief Minister Saini said Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision is that when we celebrate 100 years of India's Independence, our country should become a developed nation. India should become the dream of those revolutionary heroes who sacrificed everything to liberate India. By realizing this vision, the youth will have the most important contribution in making a 'Viksit Bharat' by the year 2047. Therefore, the youth have to become mentally, physically and morally strong and achieve the goals of life.

Nayab Singh Saini said the first President of India,

Dr. Rajendra Prasad laid the foundation stone of Kurukshetra University in 1956. Since then, the university has travelled a long journey of development. He said Haryana has made a distinct identity as a leading state in the country by progressing in education, sports, cultural, research and industrial sectors. Kurukshetra University has a significant contribution in this identity. He said on the strength of the capacity of such educational institutions, Haryana has fully implemented the National Education Policy.

The Chief Minister said fill a decade ago, daughters in Haryana had to go to far-flung colleges to get higher education. Due to this, most of the daughters were deprived of education. Understanding their pain, the government prepared a roadmap and resolved to establish a college every 20 kilometres. In the last 10 years, 79 colleges were opened, out of which 30 are for girls only. He said the government's aim is that every child gets a quality education near his home.

Maha Kumbh turned into 'Mrityu Kumbh', stampede death toll suppressed, says Mamata

Kolkata Feb 18 (TSIT) West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday asserted that the Maha Kumbh had turned into a "Mrityu Kumbh" due to the incidents of stampede, claiming that the actual death toll at the religious gathering was suppressed by authorities. At least 30 people died and 60 were injured in a stampede in Uttar Pradesh's Prayagraj last month, while 18 people lost their lives in a recent stampede at an overcrowded New Delhi railway station. "They have hidden hundreds of bodies to bring down the toll. The Maha Kumbh has turned into a 'Mrityu Kumbh' under the BJP rule," Banerjee said during an address in the state assembly. Banerjee termed the stampede at the Maha Kumbh "deeply heart-breaking", and stressed the need for better planning and management at large religious gatherings to ensure public safety. "The tragic loss of lives in such incidents highlights the importance of careful planning, especially when it comes to the safety of citizens," she said.
